

NSCC Student Awards (scholarships, bursaries and awards)

NSCC has a robust student awards program, one that provides students with much needed financial support while at the same time, recognizing their academic and personal achievements. We're giving away $1 million+ in awards, bursaries, and scholarships to 750 students this spring. Eligibility is based on a variety of factors, including academic record, financial need, and leadership or community involvement.

How do students apply?

1. Visit nsc.ca/awards and search our awards listing. Be sure to choose the year of study that applies for September 2018.
2. Review each award to determine eligibility. If so, add it to the award listing.
3. Prepare the items required for the application.
4. Return to the site and complete the application (all awards can be applied for with one application).

Make sure to note

- There are also 26 entrance awards posted on this site for those students who are entering the College directly from a Nova Scotia high school. These awards cover full tuition for our core programs (up to a maximum of $3,220) and recipients are chosen for each of our 13 campuses.
- The deadlines vary for awards, but most expire on May 15, 2018. Encouraging students to apply early is an excellent tip. We review all applications for completeness and with an early application, there is time for us to reach out and retrieve any missing information that might otherwise render the application incomplete.

How can you help?

Any assistance you can provide in sharing these awards with those students who plan to attend NSCC this September would be greatly appreciated. While we make many attempts to share the news about our awards program with incoming students through our Admissions process, we recognize that during this exciting stage students might be solely focused on completing their college applications.
